A FORECAST.

As the heading indicates it is a glance of the mental vision in the future. Of course it is a political forecast, a prophecy, as to the outcome of the scramble for presidential honors.

We usually look to "big men" political leaders for wisdom and knowledge along this line, and yet the "Near great" are not the truly great, and many of the so called "great men" have not approximated the "Near great" hence the result has been "blind lead the blind" in political matters with the spectacle of a skidding of the machine, and a tumble of "bosses," into the political ditch.

A HE O IN A LIGHTHOUSE.

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck himself, if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken others so called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50 cts. at Chas. C. Davis.

What about the "Forecast"? Well, this may be said, of a party "A house divided against itself cannot stand."

That is truth recorded in holy unit. We judge of the future by the past and to the thoughtful reader of history, no truth is more universal in its application than this.

This prophet does not venture to predict who will be the republican or democratic nominee for president but we are likely to see some peculiar interest manifested in platform making this year and to reduce our prediction, to a guessing contest, there will be incorporated in both platform planks intended to mean "Revision".

We know in part what Hon. Woodson Wilson's views are on many of the leading questions of the hour as well as those of W. J. Bryan, La Follette, of Roosevelt, of Beveridge, of Clark and other presidential timber, but to guess again it's safe to say, that if the men named representing as they do both parties, were placed on a platform committee, there would be found practical agreement on 1.—Government control of public utilities, 2. Tariff revision "to the extent of a revenue basis, 3. Legislation to increase the scope and power of Interstate-Commerce Commission (or court).

In conclusion mortal vision, is incapable of foretelling who will be nominated on either ticket for president nor what the result will be when the vote is taken. In a future article this writer desires to give a brief outline of Tariff history and another confined to a review of the Irrepressible conflict which led to the civil war.

CLIMATE AS AN ASSET.

In telling the resources of the South, but little has been said hitherto about its climate. All the world knows something of its corn and cotton and tobacco, and since the great war something, too has been published about its mineral wealth and the means at hand to develop it. One exceptional asset meanwhile has been practically ignored, namely, its wonderful climate.

The value of a superb climate and what it may do for a locality stands confessed in the story of the South of France and of California. It used to be said of Southern California that it had nothing but its climate, and at the time it was said this was largely true. But Southern California today is one of the richest regions in all America, if not in all the world. Its climate attracted millions of people who were in quest of health and wealth, with resulting luxury and development.

Experts now tell us that the famed salubrious climate of California is exactly duplicated in Georgia and Alabama; that there is no difference between the two, and that the time is not distant when this fact will be known and appreciated.

Granted that such is now the case, then the South has manifestly the advantage.

I am a long journey from New York to Los Angeles even under the best conditions. But from New York to Augusta and Mobile by land is a trip accomplished within a few hours, while by water it is a cruise of a like number of days. It is said that the wealth of Georgia and Alabama is not the result of brief voyages to the Bermudas, and that the number of tourists to those islands in quest of recreation or health is steadily increasing. When plans now outline for developing the States of Georgia and Alabama as health and pleasure resorts have been carried out, such voyagers, no doubt, will be extended further South, and such tourists will find on the South Atlantic coast what they had supposed could only be known in California.

Plans are being pushed to build great and luxurious hotels along the South Atlantic coast, so that wealth may find there what it is willing to pay for handsomely elsewhere. These resorts are to be connected by well kept public roads, over which automobiles may be driven with safety. And speedily the South may wake up to find its climate an asset and source of revenue, not one whit behind its assets of corn and cotton and tobacco.

JUDGE BETHURUM MAKES POWERFUL APPEAL FOR MOB PREVENTION

(Extracts of address before Circuit Judges meeting held in Louisville the last of December.)

Speaking upon the subject of "Can the Mob Be Prevented or Punished by the State," Judge B. J. Bethurum of Somerset discussed practically every phase of the question, and his words were loudly applauded by members of the Kentucky Circuit Judges' Association. The address is as follows:

"This association of circuit judges has been frequently entertained by strong and able addresses delivered by men of great power and ability at former meetings, but I must say that the subject discussed upon these occasions although of great importance to the people generally, furnishing food for the deepest thought, and the discussion of which no doubt resulted in great benefit to all the judges, yet I doubt if the association has ever had before it a subject of such universal and wide spread interest, of such pronounced importance, as the subject, 'Can the Mob Be Prevented or Punished by the State?'

"That is a question to which it is very difficult to give a satisfactory or even a plausible answer. Men trained in the science of the law and of statesmanship have been confronted with this question since the very dawn of civilization, and have been endeavoring to formulate or originate some means whereby the mob may be prevented and the law of the land allowed to take its due course in the regulation of society and in the punishment of crime, but, it seems, that notwithstanding the fact that men of towering genius, great leaders and civil rulers, have spent ages in this laudable undertaking, yet the fact remains that the question is no more nearly answered today than it was a thousand years ago. This much being conceded, I judge that what I may offer in this connection will not furnish a genuine correct solution of the question that will settle it to the satisfaction of all.

"But while it may be utterly impossible to prevent the formation of the mob, yet I am a firm believer in the doctrine of the ultimate triumph of the right, and in the end the certain and complete overthrow of the wrong, and while it may be difficult to so control society as that the mob, will be entirely eliminated, yet I feel absolutely certain that by the application of the proper means it is possible to practically weed it out from amongst us and substitute herefor law and order. To do this requires great patience.

"In the first place, I take it that our people, to fully appreciate the value and meaning of the law, its broadest sense, should be thoroughly educated. I believe that no wicked, lawless act of violence was ever hatched in the breast of a thoroughly educated, refined and cultured people. I do not mean to say (and do not wish to be understood) that the uneducated and illiterate of the land constitute the lawless masses. There are many millions of struggling, illiterate people who have as high regard for the law, as far as they understand it, and as high ideal of life, as many of the more fortunate who have attained to the highest standards of mental excellence, but it cannot be denied that education—the broadening of the intellectual horizon—is the surest way to implant in the human mind and breast the proper respect for the law and its orderly and decent enforcement. This is but natural. The better development we get of the mind, the more we search into the unfathomed depths of the sciences and the arts, the more we read of the philosopher and law givers, and of their great productions, the more we learn of our great scheme of representative government—the wonder and marvel of the world—the more we reason and think, the better equipped we are for citizenship; and when a criminal approaches a person thus entrenched and equipped with a suggestion that he commit a crime or do some sort of violence, the developed and trained mind and indignant spirit spurns the suggestion. But the man surrounded by the impenetrable darkness of illiteracy and ignorance, with a skull as thick as a stone, whose eye never gazes upon the torch of reason, would with little persuasion join the mob determined to blood thirsty mob.

SCIENTIFIC NEW DISCOVERIES.

By the electro-magnetic telegraph an operator can exactly locate a fracture in a submarine cable nearly 3000 miles long. A few fossils sent to an expert geologist enable him to accurately determine the rock formation from which they are taken. This he can describe as perfectly as if the rocky formation was before him on the table.

So, also, in medical science. Disease has certain unmistakable signs or symptoms. By reason of this fact the physicians and specialists connected with Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, are enabled to accurately determine the nature of many chronic diseases without seeing and personally examining their patients. In recognizing disease without a personal examination of the patient, they do not claim to possess miraculous powers. They obtain their knowledge of the patient's disease by practical and well-established principles of modern science. Certain diseases display certain peculiar traits. Subjected to scientific analysis they furnish abundant data to guide the judgment of the skillful practitioner. This method of treating patients at a distance, by mail, has been so successful that there is scarcely a city or a village in the United States that is not represented by one or more cases upon the records of practice at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute. Such rare cases as cannot be treated in this way, which require surgical operations or careful after-treatment, or electrical therapeutics, receive the services of the most skillful specialists at the Institute.

Dr. R. V. Pierce long ago established this Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute with a full Staff of Physicians who were expert in their specialties. These physicians may be consulted, by letter, free and without charge whatever, if you wish a specialist's advice upon any chronic malady. The same system of "specialties" is observed in the departments of a medical college. The professor who would assume to lecture in all departments with equal ease and proficiency would be severely ridiculed by his colleagues, and it is just as absurd to suppose that the general practitioner can keep himself informed of the many new methods of treatment that are being constantly devised and adopted in the several departments of Medicine and Surgery.

People who have been patients at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., have much to say in regard to this wonderfully equipped Sanitarium, where all the latest electrical apparatus, as well as electric water baths, Turkish baths, static electric machines, high-frequency current, and other most modern and up-to-date apparatus are used for the cure of chronic diseases. The treatment of the chronic diseases that are peculiar to women have for many years been a large factor in the cures effected at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute.

The violet-ray treatment, which is another interesting proceeding, is carried out by concentrating the light, rich in the violet or chemical rays, from an arc light with a specially prepared carbon, upon any portion of the body that may be the seat of pain. Sufferers from neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, strains, sprains, also from those obscure exhausting pains (the origin of which cannot at times be accurately determined) frequently find immediate relief from a single treatment and a little persistence in the use of this aid, comfortable health or perfect recovery is obtained.

Then, there is the incandescent light bath, consisting of a cabinet in which the patient is bathed in the combined rays of many electric lights. It has proved itself a remedy for such diseases as, sciatica, rheumatism, obesity, anæmia, and some forms of kidney and heart trouble. It has also proven valuable in chronic bronchitis, bronchial asthma and the various skin diseases. As a general hygienic measure its efficiency can scarcely be over-estimated.

In medicine there has been rapid and real progress during recent years, and Dr. Pierce has kept up with the times in that he has had the manufacture and ingredients in his well-known remedies improved in a modern laboratory by skilled chemists. The greatest care being exercised to see that the ingredients entering into his well-known medicines Dr. Pierce's Family Prescription as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery" are extracted from the best variety of native medicinal roots, gathered with great care and at the proper season of the year, so that their medicinal properties may be most reliable.

Great care is exercised not to over-encourage those who consult the specialists of this institution that no false hopes may be raised. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advisor is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 cent stamps for the cloth-bound. Write the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, at Buffalo, N. Y.

W. T. Davis has bought a one half interest in the store of T. N. Noe. The style of the new firm will be Noe & Davis.

Mrs. Jack Hysinger died Wednesday morning after an illness of only a few days of acute indigestion. The remains were laid to rest yesterday in the family burying ground.

14 below zero according to the most accurate thermometer has been the coldest, but that was enough to make all sit up and notice. Many years since we had any thing like as cold weather.

In Dec. 1911, W. M. Owens the Burr Merchant bought $99.64 worth of eggs. During the year 1911 he bought $978.40 and during the past six years has bought 1098 cases or 32940 dozen. They were from one egg up to six dozen at a time.

The recital given at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. Rev. Carl T. Michel and Miss Claudia Dodson surpassed anything ever witnessed in Mt. Vernon in the musical line. At the piano, Miss Dodson's equal has ever been seen in Mt. Vernon and was so pronounced by those who heard her on Wednesday evening as well as on former occasions. Mr. Michel as a vocal soloist, is an artist and has long since won the admiration of Mt. Vernon people. Wednesday evening's performance belongs in that of the high class of musical performances.

FAIR:—The prospects are very flattering that Mt. Vernon is to have a fair. A paper asking for subscription for stock was circulated Wednesday and at the time of going to press there were 31 subscribers for so many shares of stock at $10 per share. The capital stock will be $3000 and it is the purpose of the promoters to sell that stock to local people or if other words let no one have one share. All who have subscribed for stock or who are interested in Mt. Vernon having a fair are requested to meet at the Court House next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock when the organization will be perfected and the officers elected. There are left something over forty shares and anyone desiring a share of stock will please notify Chas. C. Davis or Roy Beasley Mt. Vernon. As to grounds and other details will be considered at the Tuesday night meeting.

Most anyone can be an editor. All the editor has got to do is sit at a desk six days out of the week, fifty-two weeks of the year and "edit" such stuff as this:

"Bill Jones of Brush Creek let a can opener slip last week and cut him in the pantry."

"A mischievous lad of Livingston threw a stone and struck Mr. Pike in the alley last Tuesday."

"Cull McClure climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell striking himself on the back porch."

"While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green several times on the court square."

"Louis Miller of your town was playing with a cat Friday when it scratched him on the veranda."

"Tub Bullock, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday, was kicked just south of the corn crib."

A negro "blacksmith" recently announced a charge in his business as follows:

Notice:—De copardnership heretofore resisting between me and Mose Skinner is hereby resolved. Dem what owe de firm will settle wid me, and dem what de firm owes will settle wid Mose."

A Nevada editor's note of thanks: "We have received a basket of apples from our friend, Gus Bradley, for which he will please accept our compliments, some of which are nearly six inches in diameter."

Pike, of Brodhead, filled his regular appointment at Poplar Grove last Saturday and Sunday.—Victor Price entered Welch-Morrow school at Mt. Vernon last Monday.—Estel Price and Charley Riddle have purchased the stock of good from Fields Bros. at this place, they will take charge of the store some time next week.—Ora Brown has returned from a very pleasant visit with her sister, M. O. L. Hatcher, at Corbin Ky.—Wade H. Mullins has moved into the property recently vacated by Alec Davis.

Miss Jessie DeBord who is attending school at Berea came home Wednesday to be present at the wedding of her sister Fanny.—Mrs. Silke Gentry is suffering very much from a dislocated arm caused by a fall on the frozen ground last week.—Viola DeBord entertained a few of her friends last Saturday evening. Those present were, Edd and J. Harvey Brown, Clay Thompson, Harry Todd and Brinkley Latham and Misses Isabelle and Mayne Ping, Mary Latham and Or. Brown they all left saying they wanted to come again.—Ben Thompson purchased from O. J. Mullins one young bay horse at a considerably low price.—Swannie Price and Floyd Gentry enjoyed a very pleasant sleigh ride last Sunday.

Misses Viola D. Bordy, Isabelle Ping and Beatrice Broyles entered school at Mt. Vernon last Monday.—Those who entered school at Berea don't seem to be very well satisfied two of them have returned already. Why should they not patronize their home school anyway.—The wedding of Mr. Garfield Isaacs aged thirty and Miss Fannie DeBord twenty-six was solemnized at the home of the bride Wednesday Jan. 10, the Rev. D. R. Gentry officiating. The bride is one of Rockcastle's best young teachers and the groom has a very high position, they both have many warm friends who extend to them hearty congratulations.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

The colt needs exercise.

Divide the hog pastures.

Have a sharp steel cutter on the plow.

Rich buttermilk means a poor butter yield.

Provide some succulent food for ewes in winter.

Thorough and constant spraying is the price of good fruit.

After pruning clean up and have some bonfires right away.

It has never seemed advisable to sow alfalfa in the fall with rye.

Provide the tomatoes with a support of some kind—trellis or stakes.

A little pig loves sunshine and needs it almost as much as he needs food.

Better sires, better cows, better care and more prosperity is the inevitable result.

The gospel of clean milk is not a stranger gospel, but a gospel of prevention.

Sows are always in better condition to raise fall pigs than they are in the spring.

Wash all parts of separator at end of separation and scald, leaving in the open air to dry.

In keeping cows never be without clover. It is one of the foods essential to good dairymaking.

In preparing either walnuts or butternuts for planting, the shucks should be left on over winter.

The late hatched chickens should have a grass run to themselves and be given extra feed and care.

A chill brought on by the sudden coming in contact with the frosty ground may ruin your best cow.

The individuality of each horse should be studied, and the feeds supplied to meet individual requirements.

Don't let the buck run with the does when the breeding season is over, but confine him in a pen by him self.

Are there any old apple trees in your orchard, bearing desirable fruit? Try to graft good varieties upon them.

With good fence wire as cheap as it is today it is an easy matter to divide up the hog pasture into convenient lots.

All ewe lambs that are not desirable to raise as breeders should be given extra feed and sent back to the block early.

Systematic training is of value in handling young colts; teach them one thing at a time, have them learn that one thing thoroughly.

Cold, exposed sleeping quarters that compel the sows to pile up in order to keep warm are usually responsible for the dead pigs at this time.

Fruit trees should be planted in regular rows in the orchard, or fruit garden, so thorough culture can be given both ways of the orchard.

Give the ewes the best possible chance to get them in high condition before breeding time. It means more and stronger and thrifter lambs.

Maple and ash posts will last about three or four years; excepting the very best quality of yellow ash, and it is too dear to be used as fence posts.

Mighty easy to feed new corn to the hogs, stalks and all, but you will find that if the corn is first run through the shredder the animals will eat it up clean.

Shocked corn accustomed cattle to the taste of oat corn, but compels them to eat so much roughage in connection that there is very little danger of over-eating.

Constipation is the cause of many ailments and disorders that make life miserable. Take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, keep your bowels regular and you will avoid these diseases. For sale by Chas. C. Davis.

ALL DRUGGISTS

THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE.

Do not sap the springs of life by neglect of the human mechanism, by allowing the accumulation of poisons in the system. An imitation of Nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous strength is to take an alternative glyceric extract (without alcohol) of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, Bloodroot, Sassafras and Mandrake root with Cherrybark. Over 40 years ago Dr. Pierce gave to the public this remedy, which he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. He found it would help the blood in taking up the proper elements from food, help the liver into activity, thereby throwing out the poisons from the blood and vitalizing the whole system as well as allaying and soothing a cough. No one ever takes cold, unless constipated, or exhausted, and having what we call mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. The "Discovery" is an all-around tonic which restores tone to the blood, nerves and heart by imitating Nature's methods of restoring waste of tissue, and feeding the nerves, heart and lungs on rich red blood.

"I suffered from pain under my right shoulder blade also a very severe cough," writes Miss W. Doan, of New Brookland, S. C., to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had four different doctors and none did me any good. Some said I had consumption, others said I would have to have an operation. I was bedridden, unable to get up for six months and was nothing but a live skeleton. You advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. When I had taken one bottle of the 'Discovery' I could sit up for an hour at a time, and when I had taken three bottles I could do my cooking and tend to the children. I took fourteen bottles in all and was then in good health. My weight is now 107 pounds."

Sell the poor cow.
Ewes need succulent feed.
The fall colt is nearly clear gain.
Fattening cattle should have plenty of salt.
Frost-bitten grass has no food value to speak of.
Both oats and barley are good feeds for young pigs.

So that the coops and henhouse is free from lice and mites.
Well cured ensilage corresponds with the nature of the cow.
The chief characteristics of the rooster are speed and stamina.

Horses that have a light hay diet are seldom affected with heaves.
Cleanliness and fresh air will usually prevent epidemics of any kind.

Testing is the only method by which we can cut out the robbers in the herd.
The brown leghorn or the houndfeather quickly and soon reach maturity.

The colts and unused horses should spend most of each pleasant day in the paddock.

Have no hesitation in disposing of the unprofitable cows. They are a mistake.

Sheep do not drink much water, but what little they drink must be absolutely clean.

Corn fodder that is shredded or split, and ground fine, makes a very satisfactory feed.

Have an orchard book and keep a record of the trees planted and also the variety of fruit.

Free range for hogs does not mean that they should be allowed to run over our neighbor's farm.

The late hatching eggs from some of the small quick-growing breeds can be raised at the least cost.

Do not sell all the best. If anyone is entitled to the best fruit produced on the farm, it is the family.

Pumpkins are a valuable succulence for cows, holding much the same place in the ration as silage and roots.

If you think of setting out an orchard and have had no experience, better hire a good man to show you how.

The practice of turning the cows on rye and winter barley that is sown for early spring feed is not a good practice.

The cream should always be strained into the churn through a fine wire sieve or a dipper, with a perforated tin bottom.

Well-bred heifer calves may often be purchased cheaply of people who live in town and keep but one cow for family use.

Ensilage is not considered good for sheep, and if it is fed at all it should be fed very sparingly and at intervals of two or three days.

Each cow's udder should be thoroughly cleaned before milking and the hands of the milker should be absolutely clean and dry.

Clean sound oats make an excellent ration for the pigs. If this is fed to them regularly during the fattening period the pork will be superior.

Stone fruits, such as peaches, apricots, plums and nectarines, should be planted the latter part of March, before the buds commence to swell.

Farmers who undertake to grow in any section of the country what nature does not intend them to grow soon find it out, and usually by hard experience.

It pays to have the farm fenced hog tight and cross fenced into small fields and to have plenty of yards to keep hogs of different sizes and ages separated.

If a yearling ram is used watch him when first admitted to the flock. Sometimes they are not breeders. It is well to look after the old ones too. They sometimes quit.

The horse population of the world is estimated at more than 111,000,000, of which about 48,000,000 are in Europe, 28,000,000 in North America and 11,000,000 in Asia.

Plow up your old, worn-out orchard this fall and put some manure, compost, ashes and bones in the trenches. You'll be surprised next year at the quick response of your trees.

A daily record should be kept of each cow in the stable. In a year's time a dairyman will then know by practical demonstration what cows are paying him, and those that are not.

Pumpkins will freeze if you don't watch out, and frozen pumpkins are of no good to anything. Good, ripe sound pumpkins are enjoyed by the cows, and help the milk flow very quick.

70 Years with Coughs

We have had seventy years of experience with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This makes us have great confidence in it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, weak throats, and weak lungs. We want you to have confidence in it, as well. Ask your own doctor what experience he has had with it. He knows. Keep in close touch with him.

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime will cause an increased flow of bile and produce a gentle laxative effect the day following. Formula on each box. Show it to your doctor. He will understand at a glance. Once, one pill at bedtime, just one.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Faribault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better. Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble.

A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work.

For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic. You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.
